Check out what libraries around the state did for the 2015 Summer Reading Program (SRP).

Wetumpka

Kids at Wetumpka Public Library enjoyed Magician Archie Wade.

Dutton

Kids at Dutton Public Library enjoyed a performance from the Sock Rockerz, a visit from the Sheriff's Department, and a peek at an Air Evac rescue helicopter among other fun programs!

Chickasaw

Children posed with local heroes at Ina Pullen Smallwood Memorial Library in Chickasaw.

Ider

Ider Public Library helped kids see their potential super powers when Cecil Gant from the Sand Mountain-Lake Guntersville Watershed gave a hands-on presentation on saving and protecting natural resources. Additionally, the local fire and police departments showed how they use their equipment.

Kids also got a chance to make their own capes.

As an incentive to read, the more books kids read, the more tape they got to tape Library Aide Teresa to a chair!

Tuscaloosa

Iron Giant Percussion showed how heroes can spread the joy of reading through music at Tuscaloosa Public Library.

The library also hosted a program called Be a Hero... Conserve! Author Julia Heckathorn combined her love for the environment and art to offer this educational program. Daisy the Sloth was a big hit during the program!

Odenville

Spiderman delighted children at Odenville Public Library when he visited by playing games, posing for photos, and giving autographs.

Thomasville

Thomasville Public Library kicked off SRP on June 2nd with stacked events spanning the day. 82 kids and teens attended the Michael P. White illustrating workshop and 250 enjoyed the program called Animal Avengers!
